

Code of Conduct

Children are expected to be in their classroom on time each week. Families are also expected to pick up their children on time each week.

The Islamic School of Fort Collins meets Sundays 10 am -2:00pm. Please refer to the school calendar for a complete list of school days. Each semester, families are expected to pay fees for each child attending the Islamic School of Fort Collins.

The fees pay for individual textbooks and workbooks that are each student's books to keep. The fees also pay for supplies, upkeep, and expenses that arise throughout the semester. The fees for each child are as follows: $150 yearly for Islamic Studies and Arabic Studies.

For clothing, please follow the Islamic dressing code for girls and boys.

Children are expected to have an appropriate snack each Sunday. Candy and soda are not appropriate snacks. Please remember that children will be at school for four hours each Sunday.

If your children are unable to attend school, you are expected to call or email the principal in advance.

If your children are sick, you must contact the principal before the end of the day that Sunday.

Children are expected to be prepared to learn every week with all of the materials expected of them - - this includes any assigned homework.

Children who are prone to bathroom accidents should be sent to school with a change of clothes since we do not have extra clothes on hand at the masjid. Families are expected to clean-up on the day they are assigned.

Each family is expected to understand and abide by the three strike policy. After three strikes within a school year, your child will be asked to leave the school for the remainder of the school year. Strikes include the following (not limited to): failing to complete assigned homework, or continually arriving late to school, impolite act with teachers and school helpers, and not following the roles. You will be given written notification for each strike.

All students will be provided with a textbook and workbook. If they lose the books, it will be your responsibility, as the parent, to pay for a replacement copy.

You are expected to understand that the Islamic School of Fort Collins, as well as the Islamic Center of Fort Collins, are not liable for any accidents involving your children. If you do not agree to the aforementioned expectations, please contact us.

If we are unable to work out an agreement about the Code of Conduct, it may be in the best interest of you and your family to refrain from sending your children to the Islamic School of Fort Collins. We are unable to have participants who are unwilling to complete their share of the school. It is important to remember that we are all working to serve Allah and better educate today's Ummah.

May Allah guide us and accept from all of us.

Jazakum Allah Khair.
